

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:18

An oldtime citizen of Grenada told me that one of Grenada's "silent cities of the dead" - Odd Fellows Cemetery - was getting into deplorable shape. I am not seeking to evade my own responsibility in the matter. I, too, have folks buried there and I hardly ever go there to see how things are. So, if I criticized anyone, I would be criticizing myself at the same time. As for myself, I am going to see how MY folks are "resting" there and, if I find things as bad as pictured by this citizen, I vow to do something about the matter. How about YOUR lot where YOUR folks sleep the eternal sleep. Dot Taylor and Roy Doak, it seems to me, have toted the burden of maintaining this sacred place. BUT without much help from others. The citizen who talked to me said that she thought the property now belongs to the City. She was not sure of that, nor am I. Folks are always having "projects" - Clean Up Odd Fellows Cemetery. While nobody wants a cemetery to be an "ad for Grenada", it had better be a good ad than, as it is, a bad ad, inasmuch as it is right on one of the nation's arterial highways - 51 Highway.

Sam Norris of Holcomb, who paid his dues Tuesday, said, like Truman, he never had it so good. His legs are weak, but his arms are still strong. He has a light boat, which he is able to take in and out of the water, a couple of short paddles, and above all, a fine elevated boat seat. He long ago quit blacksmithing and started a career of fishing, a career he follows assiduously. Norris, like Hamby's of Grenada, is fishing headquarters of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ware of Longview, Wash., got a taste of the GCW when their children, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Collins, visited out there and now, thru a gift of the Collins', are regular subscribers whom we welcome this week. The GCW Gets Around.

Items about God's favorite children: Tobe Isenberg is in the local hospital having some kind of growth removed from his nose. Sam Wade is in St. Louis, buying goods for his large fall trade. He went by air.

We are agents for the nationally-known line of Christmas cards, known as Masterpiece. We just aint got money enough to stock all of these fancy cards, but can get them for you (with name imprinted) in an extremely short time. As usual we have lots of good-enough cards at a dollar a box.

A gentleman representing himself to be Mr. Smith, a CPA of Jackson, came around to tell me (why me?) that he was seeking to interest the board, the Mayor and the City Manager in collecting on a percentage basis, some taxes that Mr. Smith said was due the City, against whom and for how much Mr. Smith did not say. I told him that I had nothing to do with the matter; that he would have to take further counsel with the city officials.

Thank goodness, the Wednesday just passed is the LAST Wednesday when businesses will be closed on Wednesday afternoons.

Grace Defenbaugh, one of our favorite newspaper folks, was recently in the office and told us of the thrilling time she and her mother who were meeting a younger brother coming home from 3 years' service overseas, had awaiting his showing-up atop the troop ship then docking at the New York pier. They went to New York by train, but returned in brother's car and particularly enjoyed riding on Pennsylvania's magnificent turnpike.

Red Briscoe, recently converted to Methodism, was bragging on what a fine Sunday School teacher the men of the church had in Brad Dye. I dont know that he is trying to proselyte some of his former Baptist associates, but it looks that way.

Through A Woman's Eye
(By Mrs. W. W. W.)

The most important duty and problem of parents at this time is getting the children ready to go back to school early in September.

Children will need an effective lift from their parents toward better and more effective learning, and are asked to properly equip the children for the work to be done the coming semester.

Local educational authorities are at work putting the finishing touches on the communities school facilities. So that they may be in the best possible shape to receive the children on the opening day. Registration is complete throughout the county, and this year we see more than ever, an increased enrollment.

Municipal authorities and local organizations have plans for making sure that the youngsters, who will soon be going to and from school are accorded the best protection against constant mounting traffic hazards.

Grenada stores have received and have on display, new back to school fashions, supplies, and equipment that the children are going to need to be properly outfitted for the term. Wise parents will arrange medical, dental and eye examinations for their children, before school opens, to make sure they are in good health. The wise parents also will re-examine the home background, bearing in mind that each new term represents progress in their child's growth and will seek to make home study facilities up to date.

Wise parents will also determine whether a high school student can carry on with a part-time job and keeping his grades satisfactory.

Attention should be focused especially on the teen-age group who may be tempted to drop out of high school, or decide against going to college, because they would rather hang on to a well paying temporary job they had during vacation.

The nation as a whole is concerned with finding more well educated young folk to meet the constant increasing demand for "brain workers" that has developed out of scientific progress, and encourages youths to stay in school.

An unskilled, uneducated person usually works for an educated, skilled and trained person. While you are young, and with your parents help, you, and you alone must decide and work for the position in society that you desire.

Angus Association First Sale Is September 9th

Typical of the good Aberdeen-Angus cattle going into the first sale of the Yalobusha Valley Angus Association sale at Grenada, Sept. 9 are these good ones on the farm of R. L. Meredith and sons north of Grenada on Highway 51.

The association will offer in its first sale fifty registered and six hundred commercial Aberdeen-Angus. According to L. H. Stubbfield, Asst. Agt., Illinois Central Railroad, this will be the first of many non-profit organized sales of both registered and commercial Angus sponsored by the Yalobusha Valley Aberdeen-Angus Assn. which now has over one hundred active members.

Cattlemen associations such as this one are a great asset to the livestock industry as a means of promoting such organized sales for the members as well as encouraging breed improvement, better pastures, parasite and disease controls and improved management methods to cut losses and increase profits. Membership in the Yalobusha Valley Assn is open to anyone interested in registered or commercial Angus cattle. Membership is three dollars a year and can be paid to J. D. Quinn, director for Grenada County or mailed direct to C. O. Sennett, Secy, Gretnada, Miss.

Representatives of the U. S. Dist. Engineers in Vicksburg announce that work was started today toward closing the gap in the Graysport high level road where it crosses Old Highway No. 8 in Grenada Reservoir. Closure of the gap will take about five weeks. All traffic between Calhoun City and Grenada is urged to take new Highway 8 in order to avoid the inconvenience of detouring at the Graysport gap on steep ramps.

WORK BEGUN ON WESTLAND HILLS

Defenbaugh Subdivision To Have 39 Lots

Preliminary work on Westland Hills, Rodney Defenbaugh's subdivision on Highway 8 west began this week with the digging of trenches for sewerage lines.

When completed, Westland Hills' ten acres will be divided into 39 lots averaging 10,000 square feet. Mr. Defenbaugh will pave the streets and provide water and sewerage facilities. He will have erected an archway emblazoned with Westland Hills to mark the entrance to the subdivision. Mimosas trees along the driveway will be planted.

The subdivision has been approved for FHA and GI loans.

The land was bought from the O. Pearson estate and a direct access to the highway from the homes of Harry Raymond and Charles Arneson.

He held the Distinguished Service Cross with four clusters and had flown 106 fighter missions over Europe during World War II.

Maj. Nicholson lived with his mother. She had also accompanied him to Japan previously. When in Grenada, he had charge of the fountain at Dyre-Kents.

He was born in Dickens, Miss.

CHAMBER INTERESTED IN SANDY BEACH AT DAM

Members of the Grenada Reservoir Committee of the Chamber of Commerce favor very much the building of a sandy beach at the Reservoir and have lately been conferring with U. S. Engineers about the possibility.

It has been estimated that such a beach would cost $100,000 and the Engineers have no funds for such a project. Sardis got such a beach because of an abundance of handy sand.

Leaders

Lesson for August 30, 1953

A "classless society" there can never be, for various reasons. One of the plainest reasons is that there always have to be leaders in any society that is not a sheer mob—and even mobs have to be led. No group rises higher or goes faster than its leaders. This is true of bad societies like gangs of murderers, useless societies like some of the reader can mention, and also of the most important and best groups in the world. The church of God is no exception. No church is better or more progressive than its leaders. The aged Apostle Paul in his letters to his young friend Timothy laid down some principles for Christian leaders which have been tested by time and found always to be good.

Dr. Foreman

Not All Good People Make Good Leaders

Leaders do not spring up out of nowhere. They have to be selected and trained. What is true of the ministers of the church, the "clergy" as they are sometimes called, is just as true of the "lay" leadership, deacons, stewards, wardens or what not, and in general the kind of people you meet at a "Workers' Council" in any type of church. Now nearly everybody knows, sometimes from sad experience, that not everybody makes a good minister. Good intentions won't do it, religious devotion won't do it—though both of these are just as necessary for the effective Sunday school superintendent as for the pastor. Even the feeling, "I have been called to this work," is not enough; for experience has often shown how mistaken such a feeling can be.

How Can You Tell?

How can you tell whether you or any one else has the qualities needed for leadership? One of the best ways is the simplest: try it out. Paul speaks for instance, of the religious leader "being apt to teach." The best way to see whether some one will make a good teacher is to let him try it a while. Some church executives make the mistake of not letting young people try their wings because they are "too young." If you will look around the average church you will see some good old saint who has been, let us say, the teacher of a certain class for thirty or forty years. Everybody says, "We don't need young sprouts, we need teachers of long experience like old Mrs. Whatzis." Yes, but when did Mrs. Whatzis get her start? The records will very likely show that she started out teaching when she was little Sadie Whozis, aged about sixteen, and it is safe to say that the greybeards in the church fifty years ago shook their heads and said little Sadie was much too young to teach!

The Habit Of Command

There is one point which Saint Paul insists on strongly. It is that the "church leader must have a strong personal character. He must have a good reputation, of course, but character is far deeper. Among other personal points of strength Paul singles out the ability to control himself and others. He must be able to get things done. He must be able to persuade people to do right things. A leader without force of character just can't lead—it's a contradiction in terms. And Paul suggests two practical tests for this quality. One is: Can the man control himself? A person who falls easily into temptation, who is wishy-washy, who has a vile temper, who lets emotions run away with him, will never make a good leader. The other test, for a grown man, is: How does he manage his family? If he manages that badly, he is a poor prospect for a church leader.

The Bible And Leadership

Another matter often overlooked, but not overlooked by Paul, is this: The Christian leader must know his Bible, love it and be guided by it. When a church is electing officers, how often this is forgotten! A man will be elected to the official board because he is a prominent citizen or because it is hoped that he will be generous in his gifts, or because he is genial and friendly; but is the question asked: Can we elect as leader of God's people a person who is ignorant of God's Word?

SOIL-CEMENT—today's biggest value for light-traffic streets

SOIL-CEMENT makes taxpayers' dollars go farther because about 85 per cent of the required material is usually native soil on the site. It's easy to transform high-maintenance cost streets into strong, durable pavement good for years of all-weather service with soil-cement. Soil-cement's superior value and durability for light-traffic streets are fully established. Thousands of miles of soil-cement paving are now in service in the U. S.

Farmers

DO YOU NEED CATTLE?

Now is the time to get in the cattle business while cattle prices are low. Those farmers who establish a sound cattle program now will have a profitable use for their idle acreage when planting restrictions are imposed on cotton and soy beans.

Our program for placing cattle with farmers on a share basis has been proved to be the best possible arrangement for farmers in good times and bad, and we now have nearly 5,000 head in Mississippi. This iction is imposed on cotton and soy beans. Fall we will have additional cows and heifers for placement with the farmers who are equipped to take care of them. Write for full information.

FIRST WORLD TRADE INSTITUTE TO DISCUSS SOUTH'S PROBLEMS

Answers to many questions of paramount importance to the South's economic future will be sought at the Mid-South's first World Trade Institute to be held at the University of Mississippi September 10-11th.

Some of the nation's outstanding leaders in world trade, business, economics and agriculture will participate in the Institute to which 15,000 Southern leaders in six states have been invited. Sponsored by the Department of Commerce and the Division of the University, the event is designed to public participation, and bulletins covering the Institute are being sent by the University upon request.

Among some of the more important questions to be discussed are these:

1. What is causing Southern exports to dwindle overseas and what can be done about it?

2. In view of an increasing industrial potential, what is a workable and sound economic policy for the South?

3. What can be done to impress the average person with the vital way in which his own economic security is affected by the ebb and flow of foreign trade?

Presiding over the various sessions of the Institute will be Dr. Clive F. Dunham, dean of the School of Commerce and Business Administration of the University; R. S. Hecht, chairman of the executive committee of the Mississippi Shipping Company, New Orleans; Frank R. Ahlgren, editor, Memphis Commercial Appeal, and Dr. R. W. French, dean, College of Commerce, Tulane University, New Orleans.

Among participants in the first day's sessions will be Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who will discuss the importance of world trade to agriculture; Sam Anderson, assistant secretary of commerce, will discuss world trade in relation to commerce, and J. P. Grace, Jr., president of the W. R. Grace Company of New York will tell of the stake of U. S. business in world trade.

Among other outstanding participants will be: David Kattan, past-president of the Export Manufacturers Club in New Orleans; Everett Cook, President of Cook & Co., Inc., Memphis; Oliver Emmerich, editor of the McComb Enterprise Journal at McComb; J. R. McLeod, president of Memphis International Center; E. Ward Faulk, senior vice president of the Merchants National Bank of Mobile.

Brig. Gen. John R. Hardin, president of the Mississippi River Commission, Vicksburg; George Roper, director of World Trade Development, International House, New Orleans; Dr. Lee Bidgood, now acting president of the University of Alabama; Dr. Charles Sayre, manager of the Delta and Pine Land Company at Scott, and Jamison Jones, Vice President of the Mississippi Manufacturers' Association.

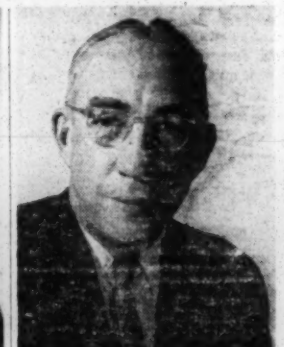

Welcome greetings will be made by Dr. J. D. Williams, chancellor of the University.

The idea for a World Trade Institute resulted from growing concern among Southern leaders over shrinking Southern markets abroad, and from their wish to clarify a desirable trade policy.

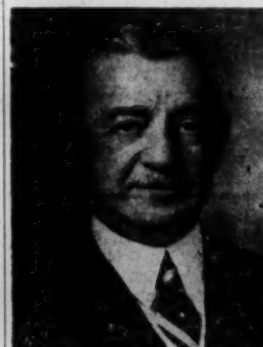

The project was launched at a meeting in Jackson, Miss., on May 9 which was attended by some 30 top banking, farm, trade, commerce and agriculture leaders and port directors. Five committees were named to work out details of the program.

Mr. J. Peter Grace, Jr., president of W. R. Grace & Company, International industrial and trading concern of New York City, who will address the Institute on "The Stake of U. S. Business in World Trade."

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Samuel W. Anderson on Thursday morning, September 10th, will address the Institute on the subject, "The Importance of World Trade To Industry."

Mr. Rudolph S. Hecht, chairman, executive committee, Mississippi Shipping Company, New Orleans, and Chairman of the Board of International House, who will preside over various sessions of Institute.

Mr. Frank Ahlgren, editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal since 1937, who will preside over the September 11th sessions dealing with "Facilities of the Mid-South for World Trade."

Allan B. Kline, president, American Farm Bureau Federation and head of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, will discuss "The Importance Of World Trade To Agriculture" at the afternoon session of the Institute September 11th.

Mr. C. D. Blauvelt, director of Foreign Sales, Superior Coach Company, Kosciusko, will be a member of the panel on "Mid-South Foreign Trade Problems" to be held September 10th at the afternoon session.

Chairmen of the committees are Edmund Taylor of Greenville, invitations; Dr. Charles R. Sayre, program; B. F. Smith, secretary-manager of the Delta Council, promotion; Dr. Dunham program information, and Dr. Williams 7.

Nicks, chairman of the Department of Economics at the University of Tennessee. Attendance is expected at the Institute from Louisiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, East Arkansas and West Georgia.

TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

When epidemic strikes and takes its sudden and deadly count of the young, it tears at our heartstrings for there is so little we can do about it. Such tragedies may occur once in a year or two. But the highway toll of young innocents produces a casualty list every day, year after year. There is much we can do about it, for we are responsible.

In one year 4,300 young lives are snuffed out, over 200,000 injured and maimed for life. Three out of every four of these lives sacrificed to carelessness are from 5 to 14 years of age. Too young to die!

School safety patrols are holding down the casualties of children going to or coming from school. Two out of three are killed while outside of school supervision. That's the big reason why it's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, to protect little children. Be alert for the unpredictable actions of youngsters at play, crossing streets, chasing balls and riding bikes.

Little ones are thoughtless of danger; perhaps, too, they trust grown folks to guard them. Don't be the one to carry on your conscience the life of a child. Slow down, be alert where children may be at your mercy.

SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

STOP! A moment to remember schools are starting in Grenada and Grenada County. Help insure the safety of our youngsters. Don't forget To: DRIVE CAREFULLY — In a School Zone 15 Miles and hour can be Too Fast. — OBEY THE TRAFFIC LAWS — Have your car or truck inspected often. STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSES — The Miss. law says you must Stop for a school bus loading or unloading whether you are meeting it or passing it. Remember: The child you Save May Be Your Own! In case of accident, parties involved must not leave the scene — Call a Policeman!

MR. FARMER!

In our opinion now is the time to pull all calves weighing 250 pounds up. Sell them so your cows can get fat before winter. The only salvation for us is to produce better cattle cheaper. By selling your calves now you can winter your cows much cheaper and your next calves will be better. We have twice as many cattle to market in the next four months as we have already marketed in the past eight months, therefore you can readily see that we can expect further decline in price. Study your situation carefully and see if you don't think it would be to your advantage to sell all of your cull and fat cattle and calves. Keep your good brood cows and heifers and do a better job on your pastures and we will eventually come out on top.

All classes of hogs are selling good and the demand is better on mules and horses.

Come to see us Thursday. Your presence is appreciated at our sale whether you are buyer, seller, or spectator.

Sit back, relax and let your automatic GAS range do the work this summer.

You'll have a COOLER KITCHEN with a new automatic Gas range

HERE'S WHY!

Fully insulated ovens in modern gas ranges keep heat inside where it gives even baking results. And Gas lets you keep the broiler shut!—so heat is always in your broiler—not in your kitchen.

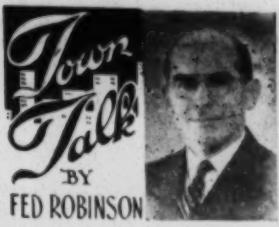

Instant on, instant off automatically, at the turn of a knob. Gas goes to work in a second without long warm-up time and gas burners don't throw waste heat after you are through cooking.

Gas broiling is smokeless. Test for yourself by holding a match over a lighted cigarette. See how the flame eats up every wisp of smoke. That's the way gas consumes any smoke from broiling. And a gas range costs less to buy, less to install and less to use!

A Good Citizen Serving Your Community

BY FED ROBINSON

An English newspaper conducted a contest to find the best answers to this question: "Who are the Happiest People on Earth?"

Before you read the prize winning answers they received, why don't you first write down your idea of who the happiest people are and send them to me care of this paper and we will write something about them. Answers: 1. A mother after a busy day, bathing her baby; 2. An honest worker or artist whistling over a job well done; 3. A doctor who has just finished a difficult and dangerous operation and saved a human life; 4. A little child building castles in the sand.

Well, if we should go looking for happy people we wouldn't find them in the palaces and tall buildings of the land, but more aptly we'd find them watering the lawn and flowers around little cottages in some shady street in a small town - we'd find J. M. Webb of Grenada building a boat, and Dr. Bob Clanton in the kitchen baking a cake. Viola Quinn would be out in the back yard with her Iris - Strick Stricklin firing up his new barbecue pit with guests sitting around - Miss Lizzie Horn grading papers - John Bradley drinking coffee with his cronies - Whyte Whitaker, Sr. would be packing the car for one of his journeys around the country just looking - Rodney Defenbaugh being introduced as the speaker of the day - Ed Penn swinging those practice shots off No. 1 tee at the country club - Thelma Zoder looking after a BIG party who had PREVIOUS reservations - Jack Murphey would be on the telephone arranging for tickets for the Sugar Bowl game - Walter Hill Felt and Frances going to choir practice

Madge Angevine unpacking those beautiful things for the fall season - Patsy Rogers having her day off - Coley McCartery standing on the porch observing Jan coming home from school - Miss Bird Sharp taking off for Texarkana - Mrs. Henry Ray, Sr. presiding before her beloved Civic League - Fed Robinson reading mail from GCW readers - Ada playing with her new washing machine. So it is when you find happy people you'll find busy people doing those little every day things which make up their life and living.

Although I have seen a great deal of this world on land and sea, only this week have I seen any part of it from the air. Way up there near the clouds one has a feeling of wanting to go higher and higher, a sort of attraction like you feel when looking down from a very tall building when there seems to be some magnet pulling you toward the earth. Up there in the big blue yonder so far removed from earthly things like bugs, gnats and mosquitoes and the noises from the pitiful little gadgets men make and use in their little circle of life, you get a feeling of cleanness and also of obedience to a higher and nobler world. You look down on the passing crazy-quilt of earth and recognize a slender little line of a road which is all important to the people traveling on it but up there its such a tiny little strip it might be closed off or blotted out and it wouldn't be missed much. You see a little community - several houses, shops, barns, and pastures nearly filled with livestock but the man tending them is too minute and is lost in the pasture. Well, it certainly changes one's perspective of things to get a few thousand feet in the air and look down, and you start to thinking of what is important - what man does or what God does! Well, next time you take a ride in the sky just take a good look around up there and realize how very small you are in comparison with the great domain of the heavens and remember He who controls all that you survey, also knows the number of hairs in your head and is aware of the falling of a little sparrow deep in the jungles.

Brother and sister Asa A. Morris have just recently returned from a fine auto trip, including a stop to see one set of their kids in Vicksburg, a visit with another set, the Clyde Jacks family, in Pasadena, Texas, and a dip in the surf in the Gulf of Mexico. Mr. Morris, however, was not able to get Mrs. Morris to yield to his plea that she get into the Gulf in a red bathing suit, tho he tried hard to do so. While they were on this enjoyable trip, they were able to check up on some of their handsome grandkids.

From what John Bickerstaff said about his recent visit in Memphis Court Square in Memphis has become to Memphis, what Pershing Square is to Los Angeles, where everybody is free to preach his own religion, and they do preach a variegated religion. Mr. John sorter wanted to preach, but did not get a proper date to do so.

Walking around thru the new Jitney Jungle Store Friday morning, I could not help but remember when, back in 1937, Al Gully and the GCW started business. Both of us were then mighty po', but Al has forged ahead. The best that can be said of the GCW is that it is still here.

Mississippi has its QUARTER-OF-A-MILLIONTH Telephone

Somewhere in the State, a short time ago, Mississippi's quarter-of-a-millionth telephone was installed.... It may have been in a home, or office... in a city, small town or on a farm.

That's an important milestone in the history of Southern Bell in Mississippi.

It's even more impressive, however, when you consider that it took over 60 years to reach the first 100,000 telephones in the State; and just a little over 7 years to add the other 150,000.

It's a big and expensive job to keep pace with prospering Mississippi's demands for telephone service... but we're hard at it. We're working to provide fast, dependable service for everyone who wants it... at a cost that keeps it one of the best values in the family budget.

ALMOST 300 STATE BOYS STUDY CONSERVATION AT MISSISSIPPI FORESTRY ASSOCIATION SCHOOLS

SCALE TREES — Carl Hammarstrom, Forester for Johns-Manville Corporation, shows Ernie Curtis of Attala county how to use log scale to measure trees.

As a result of two conservation schools and one forestry camp this summer almost 300 boys from all over the state have learned more about Mississippi's vast natural resources and how they can be developed to pay bigger dividends through wise use and conservation.

The schools were operated in July and August by the Mississippi Forestry Association, the Delta Council and the pulpwood industries of the state in cooperation with individual citizens and federal and state agencies.

DELTA BOYS CONSERVATION SCHOOL

The Delta Boys Conservation School held in July at Leroy Percy State Park was the first school of the summer. The 43 boys who attended received a full day's instruction in each of three phases of conservation, soil, wildlife and forestry. They toured the Delta Branch Experiment Station and the Delta Experiment Forest at Stoneville. They also visited U. S. Gypsum Company's plant at Greenville, one of the important wood-using industries of the Delta region. The conservation school was operated by the Delta Council and the Mississippi Forestry Association.

STATE FORESTRY CAMP

Seventy boys who had made outstanding records in forestry projects in their home counties all over the state attended the annual State Forestry Camp held at Roosevelt State Park in late July. Professional foresters from the Mississippi Forestry Commission, Extension Service and state pulpwood industries were instructors.

Dawson Jennings, area forester of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association was in charge of instruction. He said the purpose of the camp was "to give the boys as much of a college forestry course in one week as possible." The young tree farmers were offered intensive courses in timber stand improvement, fire protection and control, tree planting, harvesting and utilization, timber measurement, tree identification and other subjects.

The Forestry Camp was operated by Mississippi Forestry Association in cooperation with the following pulpwood industries: Flintkote Company, Meridian; Masonite Corporation, Laurel; Johns-Manville Corporation, Natchez; International Paper Company, Natchez and Moss Point.

DEMONSTRATION on marking trees for selective cutting by James Burnham, Masonite Corporation forester, is seen by Jerry Ward, Perry county; James Peoples, Leake county and Nelson Chance, Lincoln county.

DELTA BOYS hear W. W. Montfort, assistant extension forester, discuss forest conservation at the Delta Boys Conservation School held this summer at Leroy Percy State Park near Hollandale.

LEARN FORMULAS — Jay Kuntz, conservation forester with International Paper Company, demonstrates a formula for measuring timber in the Roosevelt Park Pavilion.

in cooperation with the following pulpwood industries: Flintkote Company, Meridian; Masonite Corporation, Laurel; Johns-Manville Corporation, Natchez; International Paper Company, Natchez and Moss Point.

STATE BOYS CONSERVATION SCHOOL

Mississippi Forestry Association's summer program was concluded this month with the twelfth annual State Boys Conservation School at Roosevelt State Park. The 154 boys who attended had a full program of instruction in all phases of conservation.

This school was highlighted by a public program where over 200 adult guests heard addresses by President Ben Hilburn of Mississippi State College and other prominent speakers.

TESTS, PRIZES AND FUN

Tests were given to all boys who attended the conservation schools and forestry camp and those who made the highest marks received prizes in the closing ceremonies.

All the boys' time was not taken up with instruction and tests, however. There were organized sports programs, swimming and many other forms of recreation during the day and movies and special entertainment programs were a feature of the evenings the boys spent in the camps.

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

"Mississippi's vast wealth of renewable natural resources is the basis for our present and future prosperity," Jack Stuart, president of the Mississippi Forestry Association, said in reviewing the successful operation of the schools this summer. "This training should help these boys take their places as citizens who realize the value of developing our natural resources, forests and forest industries as a source of continued prosperity in Mississippi."

WE DON'T KNOW EVERYTHING, BUT— Only a few decades ago most people thought that everything would soon be known; that everything would be discovered; and that all scientific data would be recorded in its proper place. The fallacy of this has become evident. The more people know and learn, the greater becomes the unknown. When compared with the sum total of all knowledge, pharmaceutical knowledge seems insignificant indeed. However, when a prescription must be compounded to restore health or to save life, pharmaceutical knowledge surpasses all other things in importance. We do not pretend to know all things, but when it's medicine you need we are prepared to meet every emergency.

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:13

I don't guess it is so funny to THEM, but the following tale is funny to our side. It seems that Bill Moser was running over town on the morning of the election with his sound-recording truck playing a record which outlined the horrors of the CM form of government, using such words as communism and dictatorship, etc. The machine must have got out of time, or something, for, according to the story, for which I cannot vouch, there came out, also, sorter in the background (I don't know how the thing worked) a song "Your Cheating Heart Will Tell On You", sung by a popular singer.

I guess I will have to back up on Sax Weir. In another part of this issue I have a piece of crap broadly hinting that the Boar Groundhog, Sax Weir, had blood on his hands (Dr. Clanton's blood). I admit, also, that early on the morning of the election I asked him not to get blood on his hands. I admit I got Whyte Jr. to go there Saturday afternoon to see if there was blood on them. I WILL apologize later, if, in the meantime, Sax tells me that he did not refer to me as a god communist, that he was referring to somebody else. All the above was brought about because Tuesday morning Sax wanted to know what the hell I was talking about - blood on his hands - that he was not unwell and that he helped put Dr. Clanton where he was. I don't guess Sax will be mad about quoting him in an editorial, elsewise in this issue, at least, I hope not.

I want to say this about Vaughn, recently resigned, or fired. Since Pelican Jennings was being accused of everything, Vaughn has been accused of MORE and LESS proved on him than anybody I ever knew except the late Pelican Jennings. I said this about Pelican when I went on the board of supervisors in 1928 and say it about Vaughn today.

There was only one entry on our cash book Monday, $3.00 for J. J. Curtis of Avalon, a new subscriber whom we welcome.

There are just 2 things I want from Dr. Clanton, whose cause I espoused so nobly. They are: for Dr. Clanton to keep his teeth "in" when he is kissing beauty queens; and for him to string my fish, while Crumby baits my hook, when we take that fishing trip to Enid.

By the way, Crumby says, "I like to read your paper and am going to take out a subscription." What he really meant was that he liked what he read LATELY. He may not like what he may read later. It all depends on whose toe is stepped on.

The attention of the serious thinking people of this city and county is invited to an editorial taken from the Natchez Democrat, reproduced in this issue. Adams County and the City of Natchez have the same "5 counties in 1 county" set-up that Grenada County and the City of Grenada have and they are trying to do something similar to what I have advocated a long time. Please read it.

All concerned had better remember this: that the citizens saved the CM form of government and it is up to the city officials and employees to help keep it. This can be done by doing good jobs and doing them courteously and politely and trying to make those who opposed the plan "like it". If this had been a "popularity contest" there would have been a far less decisive outcome. A lot of folks in the city government ain't popular with many folks. Popularity has to be earned, like Dr. Clanton earned his.

"Visiting around" suggested by Brother Weir, does not mean getting shaved at one barber shop one week, another, the next week, until you make the rounds; or eating breakfast at one cafe, dinner at another and supper at a third. It does mean, however, he's a bit more social with common folks (all folks, in fact), saying "no" when NO should be said, but saying NO in a courteous, polite way - just these little amenities that the boss (the people) expects from

OXFORD DEFEATS GHS 33 TO 14

Brad Sanders Leads Colonels To Victory

(By Hugh Ketchum)
Speedy Brad Sanders skirted left end for three long touchdown runs in the last half to lead the Oxford Colonels to a 33 to 14 Little Ten victory over the Grenada Bulldogs last Friday night at Proby Field. His scoring jaunts were for 77, 28 and 47 yards and he had one 82-yard run nullified by a clipping penalty in the first half.

The Bulldogs held the Colonels in check in the first half, holding a 7 to 6 lead at halftime. But, in the second half the Colonels sent Gene Mistilis through the middle and Sanders around the ends for four touchdowns and a total of 322 yards on the ground. In the meantime the Bulldogs could push across only one score and ran out of gas another time at the two-yard line.

Mistilis scored the first touchdown for the Colonels in the opening period after a blocked punt had given the visitors the ball deep in Grenada territory. In the second quarter, Ray Freeman came through with another brilliant performance with a 39-yard run to tie the score. He kicked the point after the touchdown which tied the score. He kicked the point which put Grenada in front at the half.

Early in the third period Mistilis broke loose for 69 yards and a few plays later Sanders went 77 yards for another tally, giving the Colonels a 20 to 7 lead. The Bulldogs rallied when Johnny Gera returned the Oxford kick-off 56 yards to the 20 then hit Captain Vernon Bishop with a 29 yard touchdown pass. Freeman kicked the point and the Colonels went in the final quarter with a 20 to 14 lead.

Sanders went 28 yards early in the fourth period, and on the last play of the game broke away again for 47 yards to rout the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs have an open date this week then travel to Yazoo City next Friday.

he hired hands. If I wanted to be common about it, I would call it "bull around more."

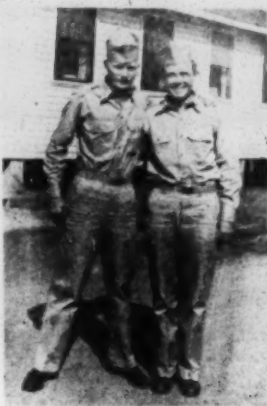

I ain't got nothing agin Bill Moser and have had nothing but good words for him, and I want us to resume our fishing trips right away. Bill was mighty good to both my boys when they were taking OI training and he was good and fair to many others, and I appreciate him and am sorrowful that the exigencies of the occasion placed us on opposite sides in the just-ended campaign. Nobody would have worked as hard as Bill did unless his very heart was in the matter.

As to the ladies who participated even if on the "other side", in the campaign, I want to take off my hat to Julia Talbert who works hard and indefatigably in whatever campaign she enters. I would a damnsite rather have Julia with me than agin me.

Council-Manager form of government in Grenada got a resounding vote of confidence Saturday when the qualified electors voted 681 to 281 in favor of retaining it.

This is the third time that Grenada has voted on the city manager government decision. The first time that it came to a vote in May, 1928, the proposal was defeated by 8 votes.

W. W. Whitaker, GCW editor and others, kept working and another election was held August 5, 1930. At this time 394 favored CM government and 218 opposed it. Among the supporters of the CM government were the aldermen and Mayor Knox Pierce.

In March, 1931, Edward M. Johnson became Grenada's first city manager. Upon his resignation, John E. McEachin was appointed and is currently serving. Under his administration, the city's expenditures have gone down over 50 percent.

This morning, 681 qualified electors voted in favor of retaining the city manager government. Many do not know that the city manager government has been in place since 1931.

BY FED ROBINSON

A news story by Douglas Larsen, Washington, D. C., date line says "Hard-Eyed Penny Pinchers Now Head Federal Agencies". But I wish he hadn't printed it for it says the Dept. of Labor had found out it cost $20.00 for his office force to purchase for him a railroad ticket to Baltimore - 47 miles away, and the fare was only $1.50. Another place the story says the department of labor was paying $100.00 a year for delivery of daily papers to their office and $20.00 a year for magazines. We know it has been terribly hard on the office force to be deprived of their reading material formerly delivered to their desks each day, but we are glad they are going to try to make the sacrifice for economy sake. Well, we have turned over several salesmen who have managed we would like to have had to enjoy but the $47.50 deduction from his salary each week for Federal Income Tax makes it impossible for us to have a lot of things we want. Well, there is no crying in the wilderness about the waste of millions of dollars in our government because of the hundreds of pressure groups as there are right on the spot to neutralize anything anyone could say about it all.

When do YOU feel most appreciative for life, good health, and for your many blessings, in the morning or evening? I believe I choose the early morning as a time when I am consciously thankful for all I've got. To awake and see daylight through the curtains, see streams of beautiful sunlight sneaking in and to know I have lived through another long night and now here is another day full of opportunities and full of adventure. Today we will be seeing people we've never seen before, will probably hear a song we've never heard before or will read some little story we never knew existed and best of all today we may have a chance to say some word of kindness and encourage ment to some person we've never met before. So I say my prayers as I climb out of bed in the morning. I feel that the good Lord is certainly attuned to every heart waiting and listening for our prayers in the freshness of the morning just before we go forth to our separate duties of the day. Then there is another reason for my acute appreciation of blessing in the early morning. It goes back to an experience when I spent several weeks in a hospital several years ago. During the day time I was cared for by special nurses but at eleven o'clock at night I was left alone in that wide high-ceiling room at the end of the corridor I was not merely lonesome, but scared. I came to dread the night - so long and quiet and depressing. I remember listening for certain common noises as the nurses worked through the night and received hope and consolation by knowing that some one was awake with me. Then the coming of the morning with bustle and bustle about the place, rattling dishes, voices all made up the beginning of a NEW world each sun-up. Oh, the pain of mind and body of those dear people who are sick and lonely in hospitals. I never pass one without remembering and wishing and praying that all who are confined there may be going home this day fully well.

Here is a pretty little song for the early morning:

I've shut the door on yesterday, its sorrows and mistakes. I've locked within its gloomy walls past failures and heartaches. And now I throw the key away to seek another room, and furnish it with hope and smiles and every fragrant bloom.

To Mrs. Viola Quinn: We've been thinking of you Vi. We want you to get well very soon. We need you and the world needs you and your unmatched sunny and charitable disposition.

I just want to sort of amend what I said about Tommie Darras last week. As a matter of fact, he told the truth about fishing one time. He actually came by and got me just like he promised Wednesday. He had a boat, but no paddle. I furnished the paddle and he furnished the power, which was a fair deal. We caught a few fish, but not as many as Wells, Ray and I did. After all, Wells knows how to fish and paddle.

Mabel stayed at the office Friday afternoon while I went fishing with Henry Ray and Radio Wells, and made the following notes about what happened, quote: "GCW guests Friday afternoon were Senator Jim Eastland and Mr. (blank); Mrs. E. E. Mullin of Leflore paid her sub; Wallace Lamon, Mrs. H. J. Ray and Grif fis Meek and a car-window talk with Louise Avert. Sr. who stopped at the bakery with Edith Hathorn. L. A. Dubard, Sr. who paid for self and daughters. . . Marshall Perry brought a legal and Mrs. Rundle to see about her and Mr. Rundle's Christmas cards". End of day.

God-Planned Homes

Lesson for November 1, 1953

NO Christian home can be found between the covers of the Bible. Naturally there were no Christians before Christ, and the New Testament books were all written so early in our era that what we know as a Christian home could not exist. Jesus himself was brought up in a Jewish home. Timothy had a Jewish mother but a Greek father, and the "faith" that was in his mother and grandmother was not, probably, the faith of Christians. Nobody named in the Bible was married in a Christian church by a Christian minister. We have to say, if we stick to the facts of history, that the Christian home is something that developed out of the Christian faith which the Bible inspires and instructs, rather than something the Bible directly describes.

Law In The Home

The Christian home is not something so radically different from other kinds that it can't be recognized. Among the most primitive races there are homes of a sort. Always there is a mated pair, father and mother, and children more or less under their care. Father and mother aided often by other members of the tribe teach the young what they are expected to know. So much is universal.

Dr. Foreman

Now in the Christian home, one special feature marks it off from less developed types: training in religion. This we have inherited from the Hebrews long before us. According to Deuteronomy, the law of God was to be known by the parents and taught by them to the children. This is not simply the Ten Commandments, but the whole management of life under the will of God. Now it should go without saying that if parents try to teach their children what is right, without doing right themselves, failure is certain. Some of the most important matters can be taught only by example. To take one illustration: parents should be the best persons to tell their children what Christian marriage is and how to achieve success in it. But if parents live in constant strife or even break up altogether, then what?

A recent study was made of 12,000 young people. It was discovered that in the homes where they came from, where the parents were both Roman Catholics, only 64 per cent of the homes had broken up; where both were Protestants, 68 per cent had broken up; where the parents were of different religions, 15.2 per cent were broken; and where there was no religion at all, 16.7 per cent of the homes were broken. What those unsuccessful husbands and wives did about their own marriages will have much more effect on their children than any good advice.

Love In The Home

A good home is much more than a place where everyone behaves correctly and does just as he should. A well-managed penitentiary might be that sort of place too. The great difference between the model penitentiary and the model home is that in one, the good behavior is compulsory, in the other the ruling motive is love. There is no home where love never makes mistakes; none where love is complete and flawless. But where love is, there is hope. Without love, the least differences pile up into unscalable mountains of incompatibility and resentment; where love is, even mountains of difficulty can be brought low.

What the Bible teaches everywhere, especially in the New Testament, is that love, in the home or anywhere, to have its perfect work must not be one-sided. If every member of a home really set out to be the kind of person Paul describes in I Cor. 13 or Eph. 5, break-ups would be seldom indeed. Love ought not to be left to mothers alone!

God's Planning

A Christian home is one where God's plan of love is followed. But God never does for us what we can do for ourselves. We have to plan for our homes just as we do for anything at all that we want to succeed. This should begin early, like all good planning. Young people do not always ask the right questions before they fall in love. MRS. IRVIN JOHNSON IS SPEAKER AT IRIS CLUB

The Grenada Iris Club held its final meeting of the year Thursday at 3:30 in the home of Mrs. W. E. Brown with Mrs. Sel Jones and Mrs. E. R. Proudfit as co-hostesses.

During the business session, Mrs. D. O. Carlisle presiding, several committee reports were given and the club voted to entertain at a time convenient to them instead of alphabetically as stated in the constitution.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Irvin Johnson, who gave a most interesting talk entitled "The New Look in an Old Favorite", a comparison of new and old iris. She also showed members a diagram, giving specific instructions for planting iris.

Following the program, the hostesses served delicious keto-potato, punch with coffee to the attending members and the following guests: Mesdames Ben Adams, Morris Moore, R. A. Clayton, Sel Roane, Sam Caruthers, Woody Hanna and G. W. Butler.

He told how a connoisseur determines the authenticity of porcelain master craft and with display pieces of exquisite porcelain held the undivided attention of the ladies.

For this meeting the club room was beautifully decorated with autumn rich dahlias, roses and zenias.

Refreshments were served when the guests arrived, and the hostess served delicious sandwiches, mints and coffee.

Mrs. G. S. Kent, president, presided and introduced the guest speaker. The hostesses were Mesdames H. J. Thell, J. B. Perry Sr., E. L. Wilkins and A. M. Carothers.

regarding Mr. Rundle and all other teachers of the various mens' classes in Grenada and elsewhere. Such teachers devote almost as much time

what they call "talks" as do the paid preachers in the study and prepara-

In many cases such teachers have better talks than preachers have

Chester Brown of Ashville, back in

It finally dawned on him that he

Anyhow, I am tired of getting all

The first on our list, and a migh-

Then, too I am tired of having the

THE BIRTH OF A PROFESSION

How the practice of the healing arts first came into existence is unknown. Undoubtedly a sickness prompted someone to do something for an ailing friend or relative. The value of herbs may have been discovered by accident or by observing the habits of sick animals. Pharmacy had its birth when the first herb was processed prior to administration. Today no profession is more highly specialized. It is based on scientific fact. Centuries of medical progress and years of experience and formal education form the background for the service rendered by pharmacists of today. We appreciate the opportunity to serve.

74 INCHES RAINFALL
LOW OF 38 RECORDED

Now that it's learned how after all these dry months, maybe it will rain some more. Hiram West, official weather recorder, said that through

A LETTER TO MY FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC FROM L. VAUGHN

I joined the Grenada Police Department on December 12, 1946 and have served the public faithfully under four Chiefs of Police - Chief Crenshaw, Chief Tatum, Chief Bennett and Chief Crumby, and on Monday, October 26, 1953 I was called into the office of Mr. John McEachin, City Manager, and was asked by him to either resign or he would have to go before the Board and ask them to fire me. On such short notice I signed the resignation, to take effect November 30, 1953, but after careful consideration and having talked to several of my friends I have decided to resign effective October 29, 1953 for the reason that I feel that if I am not good enough to serve from now on on the Police Department I am not good enough to serve thirty days more, and I want to let the public know what a dirty deal I got in this resignation. I was informed by Mr. McEachin that the pressure had been put on him so strong that I would have to resign or he would have to fire me, and I would like to state at this time if any person in Grenada can prove any one thing on me that I will be glad to admit to same.

I am writing this letter to the public and my friends to let them know what a dirty deal I have gotten in this resignation and all I can figure out is that it is nothing but a swap out in the election as Mr. McEachin informed me that the pressure had been put on him so strong that I would have to resign or be fired.

I would like to advise the public that I was informed by Mr. McEachin and some of the Councilmen that they had nothing on me and they would be glad to give me a letter of recommendation to any place that I want to receive a job insofar as my character, ability, and integrity are concerned.

(Signed) L. Vaughn
